September 2016

Securing your interests – Delivering results

Having CMS on your side brings genuine competitive advantages. Whatever the nature of your dispute, wherever you need us in Europe and beyond, we will help you resolve it.

Our experienced lawyers, including sector-specific experts, understand your business and its challenges. We focus our expertise, knowledge and commercial insight on your issues and objectives. Using this distinctive approach, we apply our expertise in dispute resolution to help you achieve the results you need.

As one of the world's leading law firms, we can provide you with effective solutions to your most complex dispute resolution challenges. For us, building strong, trusted relationships with you and making a difference to your world is our motivation and the measure of our success.

Having CMS on your side means:

- Quality and depth of resources. With more than 300 dispute resolution specialists to choose from, your CMS team has the expertise and capacity to handle the most complex disputes.
- Global reach with local insight. With lawyers in 35 countries, CMS is truly international and bridges cultural differences. Our lawyers think and act internationally while delivering local results.
- Proven high-stakes advisers. We handle disputes worth billions of euros on a daily basis. Clients trust us with their most sensitive, difficult and business-critical cases.
- Renowned top-tier expertise. CMS has earned a reputation for excellence among clients, peers and legal industry directories.

CMS is my go-to firm for arbitration and litigation cases as it is prompt in answering, very solution-oriented, sharp and provides to-the-point advice. Moreover it is procedurally savvy and highly efficient. I like that it doesn't waste our time with dozens of pages of theoretical evaluations.

Chambers Europe 2015

Disputes happen. Whatever business you are in, resolving disputes is a fact of life. Knowing you have experienced and proactive advisers on your side is the first step towards a successful resolution.

Most disputes develop over time, and the CMS dispute resolution practice is there to help you at every stage. Early advice is critical to success, especially in international disputes. We act quickly to help you put an overall strategy in place at an early stage, offering an objective view of your position and reflecting your appetite for risk.

Managing international disputes in an increasingly globalised and highly regulated world is becoming more complex. Our experts can guide you through unfamiliar territory, focusing on the need to minimise disruption to your business.

We select your CMS team to deliver the best result in each case. Our dedicated international teams include experienced litigators or arbitration experts working alongside specialists offering expertise in relevant branches of law and key industries. We provide you with cross-border legal advice and representation from a single source in all methods of dispute resolution, including state court litigation, national and international arbitration, mediation and other alternative dispute resolution methods.

Your needs drive our advice and service and we take a 'full picture' approach to dispute resolution. We draft dispute resolution clauses in contracts, offer project-based advice and strategic analysis as well as provide representation in negotiations and formal proceedings.

Your CMS dispute resolution team puts international and local knowledge to work for you. We guide you through the fundamental issues, including the methods of dispute resolution preferred in each jurisdiction. We advise on the key cultural factors and procedures in the practice of dispute resolution, including document production (discovery), familiarisation or preparation of witnesses where permissible under local laws and managing the input from experts as well as the conduct and style of representation at the hearing.

In every case, we put our detailed knowledge and experience to work for you and focus on your success.
