Delivering true depth of expertise and resources across the globe

We are delighted to introduce you to the latest edition of the CMS International Capital Markets Contacts Book. Our 2017 three-way merger has meant we now have an even bigger and stronger International Capital Markets Group, comprised of hundreds of lawyers based all over the world across our global network. We regularly advise investment banks, financial institutions, corporate issuers and government bodies on equity fundraisings, debt capital markets and structured products in respect of both domestic and international transactions.

We deliver high quality service and value. Our team regularly works and trains together across our practice and sector groups. By combining our international capital markets and US securities expertise with national market understanding of our locally based experts, we are able to work as a cohesive and efficient team. Our group has a substantial and active capital markets offering, handling transactions ranging from IPOs, secondary offerings and private placements to debt issuances and derivatives and structured products. With a broad client base and in-depth sector expertise, our advice is always delivered in the appropriate commercial context.

This book contains details of the key contacts in each of our offices, which together form our International Capital Markets Group. Please do reach out any of our team for transactional advice or ad hoc queries.
