

Supplier Briefing

The Procurement Act 2023

is coming on 24 February 2025

Take these steps now to get ready:

- ✓ Familiarise yourself with the new law and terminology (click here for the Procurement Act 2023 and here for the Procurement Regulations 2024)
- ✓ Register and submit information on the CDP when available
- ✓ Stay updated with Gov.uk supplier information and guidance
- ✓ Use pipeline notices to plan your business strategy
- ✓ Watch the official Knowledge Drops for Suppliers
- ✓ Check if your organisation, connected persons and supply chain meet the exclusion grounds and explore your options
- ✓ Review relevant template procurement documents on the Procurement Pathway tool
- ✓ Plan your contract negotiation positions on issues like contract publication and protection of commercially sensitive information
- ✓ Get familiar with the Central Digital Platform (CDP) via the demos / factsheet
- ✓ Consider arranging bespoke training for your bid and contract management teams on the detail of the new regime

How CMS can help

Our specialist procurement team can help you prepare for the implementation of the Act.

Visit our Procurement Cube - CMS' interactive Procurement Cube explores the Procurement Act through the lens of a number of key sectors, each sector being one side of our cube: Defence, Energy & Utilities, Infrastructure, Life Sciences & Healthcare, Real Estate and TMT & Outsourcing providing sector-specific insights and commentary from the CMS team.
