

Sexual harassment in the workplace

Are you prepared to meet the new duty to prevent sexual harassment?

The new duty to prevent sexual harassment applies to all employers and is a mandatory legal obligation. Employers must introduce reasonable steps to anticipate and prevent sexual harassment in the workplace. All staff training is an important aspect of compliance.

eLearning Course

CMS has created an eLearning course which is aimed at all employees within an organisation and focuses on raising general awareness of what sexual harassment is and how each employee has a part to play; whether that is through modifying their own behaviour, supporting a colleague or understanding what to do if they experience or witness sexual harassment in the workplace.

Learning objectives

- By the end of this course, learners will be able to:
- Recognise the types of behaviour that can amount to sexual harassment in the workplace.
 - Understand the repercussions of sexual harassment in the workplace.
 - Be aware of their responsibilities and what to do if they experience or witness sexual harassment in the workplace.

Features:

- content written by experienced CMS lawyers
- customisable content to suit your organisation
- interactive exercises and examples
- fully mobile responsive
- end of course knowledge check
- can be translated into multiple languages if required

Duration: 30 minutes

Language: English

Publish formats:

- LMS: SCORM 1.2 / 2004 / AICC
- Web / HTML
- PDF (for offline)

Get in touch to request a demo:

T +44 207 3672380

E eLearning@cms-cmno.com

Further information, including a list of our offices, can be found at cms.law
© CMS Cameron McKenna Nabarro Olswang LLP 2025. 2409-0190781-6

