Providing Product Liability expertise in Lifesciences

Focusing on Product Liability in Lifesciences

CMS global Product Liability Team in Lifesciences

Our specialist Product Liability Team consists of over 40 lawyers across Europe, Russia and China, with in-depth knowledge of the Lifesciences industry (including their insurers). They have a proven track record of dealing with high-end (cross-border) product liability cases. These lawyers offer expert local insight on developments in product liability, emerging risks and policy issues impacting on product liability and group litigation within their respective jurisdictions. The team is well respected globally in the Lifesciences industry - a respect developed in part from the team's considerable commitment to sharing knowledge, including through seminars/webinars and through publishing in legal and industry publications. As one of the world's leading law firms, we can provide you with effective solutions to your most complex dispute resolution challenges. For us, building strong, trusted relationships with you and making a difference to Your World is our motivation and the measure of our success.

Trusted advisers with a strong reputation

We work with and have established long-term relationships with most of the top 100 Lifesciences companies in the areas of pharmaceutical, medical device, biotechnology and agriculture, including the top 20 global pharmaceutical companies and nine out of the top ten global medical device companies. This demonstrates our commitment to developing deep and trusted relationships with those in the sector, through drawing on our ability to deliver practical, technical and commercial legal solutions.

Working with the Lifesciences community

Many of our partners are active members of key industry bodies including the Association of the British Healthcare Industries (ABHI), Association of the British Pharmaceutical Industry (ABPI) and EUCOMED. Through these memberships, we not only share news and developments impacting the industry and business of our clients in a timely manner, but we also take a role in shaping and drafting policies to ensure these are in your best interests, as you operate in this highly regulated sector.

Having CMS on your side means:

- Quality and depth of resources. With the global Product Liability Team in lifesciences you are assured of expertise and capacity to handle the most complex disputes.
- Global reach with local insight. With lawyers in 34 countries, CMS is truly international and bridges cultural differences. Our lawyers think and act internationally while delivering local results.
- Proven high-stakes advisers. We handle disputes worth billions of euros on a daily basis. Clients trust us with their most sensitive, challenging and business-critical cases.
- Renowned top-tier expertise. CMS has earned a reputation for excellence among clients, peers and legal industry directories in the Lifesciences industry.

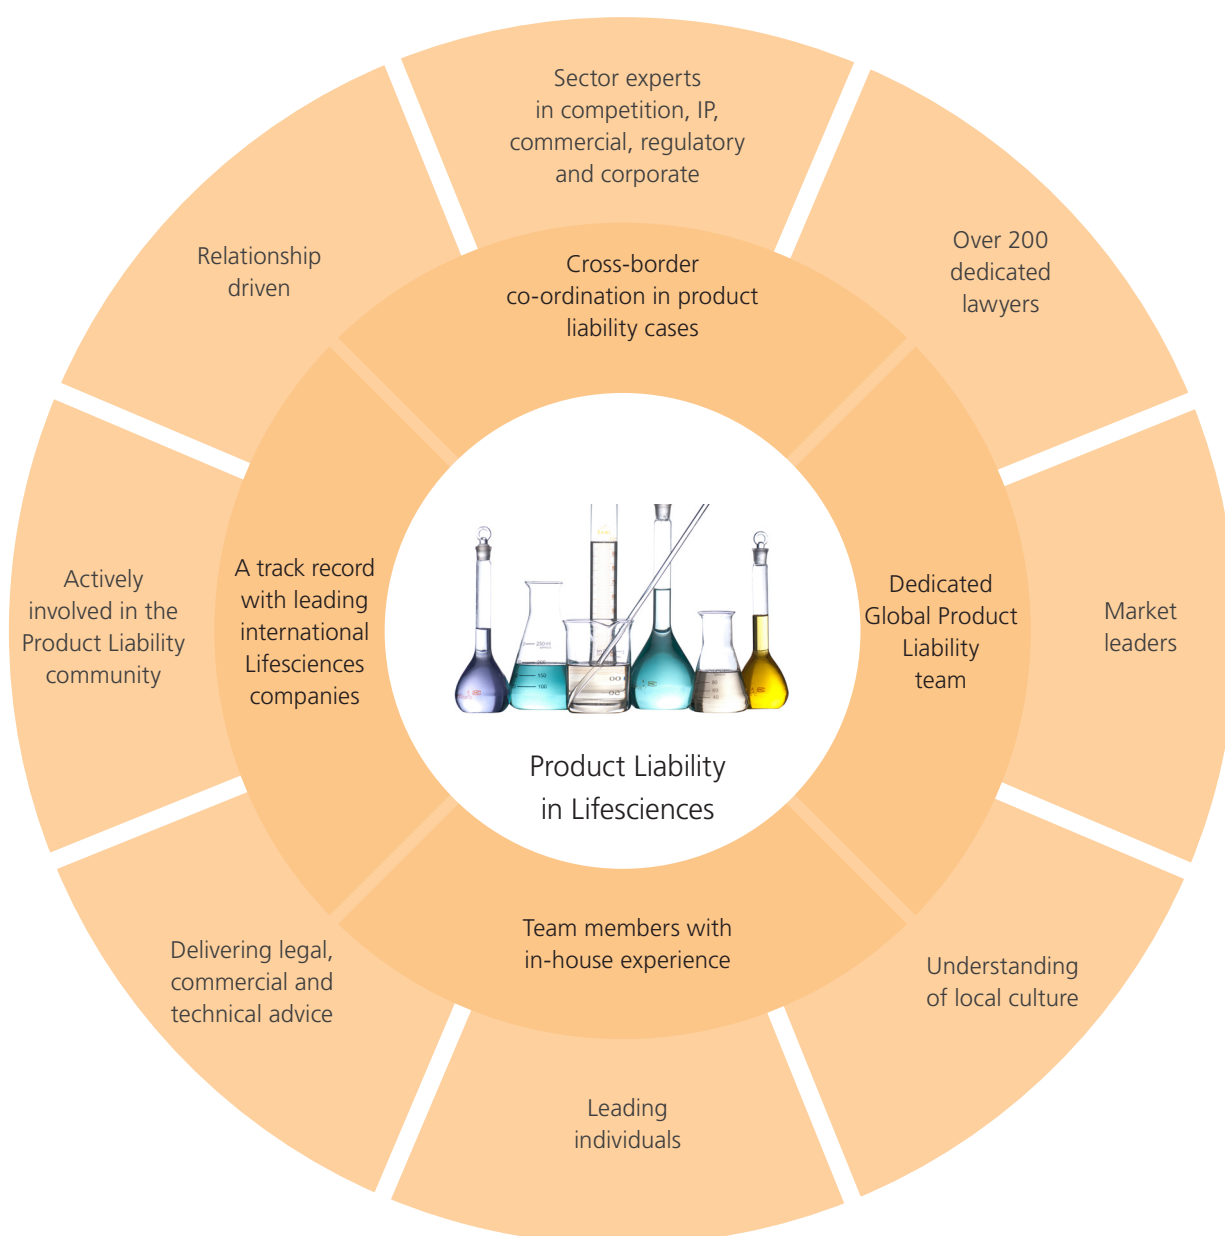

"CMS is my go-to firm for arbitration and litigation cases as it is prompt in answering, very solution-oriented, sharp and provides to-the-point advice. Moreover it is procedurally savvy and highly efficient. I like that it doesn't waste our time with dozens of pages of theoretical evaluations."

Sharing knowledge

We have a number of value added services that we offer our clients. We look to identify these through feedback, transaction reviews and relationship meetings. Our approach is flexible and innovative, and we are always keen to develop services that provide value to our clients. At CMS the development of our people is crucial to our business. This is something we extend to our clients. We see it as our objective to keep them up-date-to with important legal developments and to support them in their roles, to help make their lives easier and deliver on their own business objectives. We offer our clients:

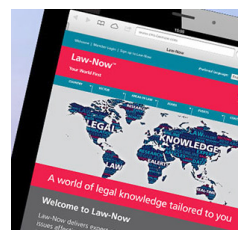

Publications

We produce a number of publications and updates (e-guides and printed material) for clients covering the latest legal and business developments. We also publish sector related e-newsletters containing recent legal updates affecting the industry.

Law-Now

Law-Now delivers expert commentary and updates on legal issues affecting your world. It is a comprehensive online resource and an email alert service. Law-Now offers:

- Content covers: 28 jurisdictions, 75 areas of law and 20 sectors
- Real time eAlerts: what you need to know 'hot off the press'
- Flexible delivery: receive content when you want to read it; real time, daily or weekly
- Extensive archive: access a wealth of legal information
- Zones: areas of in-depth analysis on particular topics
- Seminars and training from across CMS

Training Days

We recognise you are very short of time and that tailored short briefings on developments in the area of law that impact your business are likely to be of the most use. We suggest we discuss this with you and compile a programme that addresses your requirements. We offer those training sessions on all legal areas and in all CMS countries.

Webinars

On a CMS Webinar, you get interactive access to knowledge that is critical to your business without having to leave your office. During the online sessions, CMS lawyers from a range of jurisdictions share background on the latest regulations as well as the challenges and opportunities in your sector. Join our webinars and discuss your key issues in real-time with peers and experts.

Networking Opportunities

Where appropriate, we can introduce you to others within our CMS client network, giving you the opportunity to share ideas, look for opportunities and build relationships with your industry peers. We are glad to be in a position to help you and members of your legal team and senior management team at all levels to generate useful contacts. As part of our relationship management programme, your core team will seek to identify the kinds of organisations it would be most useful for you to build relationships with from a commercial and professional perspective.
